EXPERIENCE

AISLE AHEAD - UI/UX & Product Designer

December 2018 - July 2026

Remote employee | Products: BigOven, BigOven Build, and FoodCity

- Led end-to-end UX/UI design for three products (BigOven, BigOven Build, FoodCity), spanning discovery, information architecture, Figma delivery, stakeholder presentations, and post-launch iteration.
- Designed BigOven Build, a B2B food-content management platform, from the ground up as sole designer; the platform lets brands and retailers create and manage recipes, products, and content, publish across digital and retail channels, and exposerecipe/grocery-list data through an API.
- Designed the original FoodCity grocery-shopping experience and later led its full redesign across responsive web, iOS, and Android, covering checkout, lists & favorites, and a calendar-based meal planner; shipped across all three platforms.
- Improved BigOven's live website and iOS/Android apps by shipping new features, flows, and interface refinements in close partnership with product and engineering.
- Built reusable component libraries, design systems, and developer-ready assets, establishing consistent visual, interaction and accessibility standards across platforms based on user feedback and competitive research.
